4 ♠ by West
Lead: ♥ A

East should make a takeout double, as a spade overcall would promise a five-card suit. This shows at least three cards in the other suits, a four-card major and shortage in hearts. West can bid 3 ♠ showing 10-12 points and a five card suit. With 15 points and a doubleton, East has enough to bid game.

North leads the ♥ A and ♥ K. It is important that North does not next play the ♣ A as there is no threatening long suit in dummy for declarer to discard losers. If North defends passively by switching to a diamond or a trump at trick three, the defence will come to two club tricks, defeating the contract.

2 ♠ by North
Lead: ♥ A

Over East's 1 ♥ opening, South can make a takeout double showing opening values, heart shortage, four cards in the other major, and at least three cards in the other suits. West raises to 2 ♥, over which North bids 2 ♠, which ends the auction. Note, North is not forced to bid and with less than six points would pass.

East cashes the ♥ A, and on receiving partner's encouraging signal of the ♥ 7, continues to cash the ♥ K. East knows the 3rd round of hearts will be ruffed and the strong diamonds in dummy look threatening; hence a switch to clubs at trick 3 is critical, else declarer can discard club losers. The contract goes down with an active defence.

Lead: ♣ A

Holding 4-3 in the majors, West should make a take-out double rather than overcall 1 ♦. With a five card spade suit and a doubleton, East should jump to 2 ♠ showing about 9-12 points, or eight with a five card suit. West, with a singleton and good diamonds should bid game.

After leading the ♣ A, South sees the threatening diamond suit, and should switch to the ♥ A. North plays the ♥ 9, an encouraging signal, and when South continues with the ♥ Q, North should overtake this and continue with a third round of hearts. This active defence beats the contract.

3 ♥ by South
Lead: ♦ A

West opens 1 ♦. North should make a takeout double rather than overcall 2 ♣. South must bid 1 ♥, even with only two points. North invites with 3 ♥, and South with a minimum hand declines.

After cashing the ♦ A, West spots the threat of the strong club suit and switches to the ♠ A to prevent the declarer from discarding losers. East playing the ♠ 9 sends an encouraging signal and continues in the suit. The defenders can further make one trump trick to defeat the contract by one trick.

1 ♦× by East
Lead: ♦ 7

East opens their longest suit and South makes a takeout double. With such good diamonds, North makes the rare call of passing a takeout double at the one level, converting it to penalties.

South leads their singleton trump and the defenders can make 8 tricks (four trumps, two clubs, one heart and one spade). With effective defence, the contract will fall two tricks short.

4 ♠ by South
Lead: ♣ 8

Holding a five-card major (and only 11 points), South should prefer a suit overcall to a take-out double. West has four card support and can add three points for the singleton to stretch to a 2 ♣ bid. North, aware of the eight-card fit, jumps to three spades to show a good raise and South raises this to game.

West leads the ♣ 8 (second highest from a suit without an honour), and the ♣ J drops under East's ♣ K. East should defend passively, as dummy lacks a threatening long suit. At trick two, East should switch to a heart or a trump, and wait to take three diamond tricks.
